DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Palm (US 2004/0184520).

Regarding claims 1, 2 and 5-9, Palm, as shown in figures 1 and 2, teaches an ADSL communication system comprising communications between modems wherein the line length/attenuation (communication distance) between the modems are estimated based on the received power of the carriers. See also paragraphs [0066], [0069], [0088], and [0240] – [0246].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 3, 4, and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palm (US 2004/0184520) in view of Kerpez (US 2003/0108191; art cited by application).

Regarding claims 3, 4 and 10-12, Palm teaches all subject matter claimed except for adjusting the frequency distributions based on the distance between the modems. See explanation of section 2 above. However, Kerpez, from the same field of endeavor, teaches adjusting the frequency distributions based on the communication distance between the modems to optimize the communications (selecting lower and upper notch frequencies that provide the greatest data transmission rate in a correlation between the lower and upper notch frequencies and the length). See Kerpez: paragraphs [0007], [0016], [0031], [0033] - [0034], [0037] - [0038], [0042] - [0048] and [0056] - [0059]. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system of Palm by incorporating the teaching of Kerpez of adjusting the frequency distributions based on the communication distance between the modems so that communications between the modems are optimized since the loop length parameter is also taken into consideration.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References Tomita et al (US 2003/00223459), Pythoud et al (US 2005/0041799) and Milbrandt (US 6,947,441) are cited because they are pertinent to the modem communications having loop length estimation.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to DON N. VO whose telephone number is (571) 272-3018. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri (9:00AM - 6:00PM).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, JAY PATEL can be reached on (571) 272-2988. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
